Hamburger or hummus? Organic or conventional? Mediterranean diet or McDonald’s? What dietary choices are truly the most sustainable when we consider that what we eat affects not just our health but also the environment and the well-being of others? This course will provide you with an overview of our world’s food system and its many impacts from the individual to the global scale.

FIND OUT MORE! Contact bbe3201@umn.edu

COMPLETELY ONLINE
Take from anywhere!

- 3 credits
- Spring and Fall Semesters
- Meets Liberal Education Requirement (Global Perspective)
- Register at onestop.umn.edu/registration